

Academic Senate Meeting

Date 11-15-22

Quick Reminder

- Comments/questions not directly related to current agenda item will not be acknowledged until public comment. Additionally, comments/questions on agenda items should contribute to the discussion in a meaningful way. Public comments will be limited to 1 three-minute comment per person per meeting.
- The Academic Senate fully respects the time of all our senators and other meeting participants. With this in mind and because of the many items within senate purview that must be addressed each semester, we ask that discussions in senate meetings, even during the public comment period, be limited to topics within/related to the 10+1 purview of the Academic Senate. If your comment is completely unrelated to senate purview (i.e. topics such as salaries/wages, and benefits), you will be kindly asked to hold your comment and advised as to a more appropriate venue to have the conversation.
- If you type something in the chat that you would like read aloud, please begin the comment with *. If your comment does not begin with *, we will assume it's just for others to read silently and will not acknowledge it publicly.

If we're honest, we know that there is a pedagogy gap (Sims, et al., 2020) in community college education. This is not an indictment of faculty. Rather, it is an indictment of an educational system that does not require coursework on teaching and learning (i.e., pedagogy) for the majority of educators in its employ. Nevertheless, there are ways to bridge this gap. In this tripartite PD experience, we will wrestle, both individually and collectively, with educational/pedagogical concepts/theories that center justice. The overarching goal of this series is to create space for education—irrespective of prior experience—to arrive at an understanding of pedagogy as a tool not just for criticality and liberation, but also as a tool that foments radical inclusivity.

We all have a role to play—let's gear together!

Faculty will earn anti/racist/racial-equity focused Flex credit.
Please register in Cornerstone.
