Welcome Division Personnel

- Robin Dreizler
- Dean of Enrollment Services
- Dean Dreizler has a long history at ECC, dating back to when he was in utero (keep reading...). He's worked at the college since 1996 when he was about to have his 3rd child (who is now 21). He started off as an hourly employee in Outreach, then had the opportunity to serve as the Coordinator. He later transitioned to the role of Director of Outreach.
- In his current role as Dean of Enrollment Services, he oversees Outreach, Financial Aid, International Students, Admissions, and Assessment – all of our programs that onboard students.
- The Dean of Enrollment Services position was created in the recent reorganization of Student Services. In addition, we now have a new Registrar who handles the Admissions issues. Please feel free to contact our Registrar, Lillian Justice, directly with Admissions-related questions.

Welcome Division Personnel

- Robin Dreizler
- Dean of Enrollment Services
- Before working at ECC, Dean Dreizler attended ECC in the 70s. So, he's been at the college for six decades. It has actually been seven decades if you count when Robin's mom, pregnant with Robin, attended classes at ECC!
- Student Services now also includes a Dean of Student Support Services, Idania Reyes' position. Information on our website still directs some questions to Robin that should actually be going to Idania. Thank you for your patience as we continue to update our information.
- It would be helpful to plan a future Senate report on the VP for Student Services organizational chart so the senators can better understand the changes and how the different offices are serving our campus.

C. Officer Reports

- VP, Compton College: Chris Halligan for Paul Flor.
- Compton is on track with the transition timeline: submitting the sub-change proposal ahead of schedule and making progress on AB705 and Guided Pathways efforts. Models are being developed for the co-requisites for English and math. Congrats to Rocio Diaz – and Chris Halligan – on being elected to the FACCC leadership! Jesse Mills is the new VP for Compton, accepting the baton from Chris Halligan. Jesse noted he was absent from the meeting at which he was elected. So, let that be a lesson to all of us to not miss a meeting! Congrats also to Amber Gillis on her election as President, Compton College Academic Senate. (A bit later in the meeting, the ECC Senate thanks Chris and Paul Flor for their service!)

C. Officer Reports

- Chair, Curriculum Committee: Janet Young
 - College Curriculum Committee minutes & other useful information:

- See next slide for the impressive progress made by the Curriculum Committee this semester! Thanks to everyone for their hard work and to Dr. Janet Young for her leadership!
- Janet recognized the legacy from Lars Kjeseth's tenure as Curriculum Chair, when he streamlined processes by establishing standard and full reviews.
- Yuko Kawasaki thanked Janet on behalf of the Nursing department. Janet's commitment to hearing all perspectives, to simplifying processes, and to providing support was instrumental in a successful review of all Nursing curriculum!

C. Officer Reports

- VP, Educational Policies: Darcie McClelland
- No report. Ed policies are discussed under “Unfinished Business.”
- Senate packet, pages 23-26.
- VP, Faculty Development: Stacey Allen
- In fall, the Faculty Book Club will focus on teaching men of color in community colleges.
- The new flex matrix continues to be refined.
- ECC is considering becoming a pilot school for Cornerstone, which would replace Flex Reporter. (See slide that follows for more information.) When the ECC team vetted possible flex reporting programs, Cornerstone emerged as a leader for the bells and whistles it offered. But it was expensive. Serving as a pilot college allows us to benefit from a more robust system, without the big price tag!
- Thank you to Stacey and her team on the Faculty Development Committee for their efforts to provide faculty with “fresh new approaches to flex,” through the revised matrix and by collaborating with Professional Development to choose new flex reporting software! Both are anticipated for fall semester.

C. Officer Reports

- Senate packet, pages 27-29.
- VP, Finance and Special Projects: Josh Troesh
 - Planning & Budgeting Committee Minutes:
<http://www.elcamino.edu/administration/president/pbc/agendaminutes.aspx>
- This week, the PBC will review the budget and the budget review process will continue through the summer. Minutes are posted on the ECC website (see above) and can be a useful sleep aid if you're finding sleep illusive because of the plentiful daylight during the summer! Thank you to Josh for representing faculty interests during the summer as the Senate's representative to PBC!

C. Officer Reports

- Senate packet, pages 30-31.
- VP, Academic Technology: Pete Marcoux
- KDD will send senators a link with proposed changes to Administrative Procedures, related to computer usage. This will constitute our first reading; we'll have a second reading in the fall.
- The European Union has changed the way they allow companies to use cookies which is why you're getting so many privacy notices in your email these days.
- Etudes is going away; all summer courses are using Canvas. Students can see what you have in Canvas so unpublish it if your shells are still under construction.
- Grade book on Canvas may be required for submitting grades so learning how to use this tool could be an effective "baby step" in learning Canvas.

C. Officer Reports

- VP, Instructional Effectiveness, Russell Serr
- SLO/PLO assessments for spring 2018 should be completed ASAP. The final due date is Friday September 14. There will be one workshop in the fall. If anyone needs assistance, contact the facilitator in their division or myself.
- 2018 Program Reviews are due Friday September 7, 2018. If anyone needs assistance, please contact rserr@elcamino.edu. I will be here during the summer.

Thank you

Pins and pens were distributed to thank our senators and our Senate collaborators for their service to ECC's Academic Senate during 2017-2018! Dr. Shankweiler provided ECC lapel pins and the ECC Senate provided ECC writing pens. Thank you to all!

D. Special Committee Reports

- ECC VP, Academic Affairs: Jean Shankweiler
- The BRN required that all nursing curriculum be revamped. Thanks again to the nursing faculty, and especially to Dr. Janet Young, our hard-working Curriculum Chair!
- The search is underway for a Guided Pathways Coordinator. Fortunately, there were many applicants and the position may be restructured to split between a faculty member and a counselor. The GP Committee may also be restructured to have a small steering committee that works in collaboration with the coordinator(s).
- Thank you to Mary McMillan for finishing the OER grant application. We may be looking for faculty liaisons and ambassadors to help mentor and support their colleagues in adopting OER materials. Under the first OER grant, more than $84,000 was saved by our students.

D. Special Committee Reports

- ECC VP, Academic Affairs: Jean Shankweiler
- Faculty hiring is almost finished. Some departments weren't able to fill their openings. Some offers were declined. Being part of the interviewing process is very rewarding – it makes Dr. Shankweiler want to take classes again!
- There are many award programs and other special events this time of the year, including those by FYE and Project Success.
- Even if it's not "your year," please consider participating in graduation. It means so much to our students to be able to celebrate with their instructors!

D. Special Committee Reports

- ECCVP, Student Services: Ross Miyashiro
- ECC will soon be included in Naviance so that when high school students search for colleges, ECC will be among the schools that are recommended. This will allow us to spread our wings in how we reach our students as most of the area high schools use Naviance.
- Schedule builder is now in place. 2,267 unique students have now used it since June 1st. This is without any major marketing of the new tool. Students put their schedules into the system and it populates every combination of classes that would allow them to make progress toward their goals.
- Student Services is going to be engaged in a year-long customer service program. Among the tools being used are The Four Agreements, and Be Our Guest (Disney training).
- 400 acceptance letters are being sent out for South Bay Promise. On average 52% of ECC students apply for financial aid. SB Promise students were required to apply and 68% were granted financial aid. This suggests that students are selecting out of financial aid even though they may be eligible.
- Distance Education Advisory Committee: Report forthcoming under "Unfinished Business."

D. Special Committee Reports

- Distance Education Advisory Committee: Distance Education Liaison, Renee Galbavy
- ECC is now participating in the OEI Consortium. Crystal Martin, Director of Library & Learning Resources, is the contact person for those who want more information or have questions.
- If you are still on Etudes, it will be difficult to gain access now that we have switched to Canvas.

E. Unfinished Business

- Senate packet, page 38
- Training and Certification for Canvas: 2nd Reading
- Distance Education Liaison, Renee Galbavy
- Canvas training is optional for face-to-face classes. The following slide outlines the new training protocol for online classes. The proposed approach is streamlined, compared to the current system in place.
- Faculty with questions can always make an appointment with the Distance Education Coordinator, Asma Said, or with Gema Perez, Instructional Media Coordinator, for one-on-one assistance.
- The proposed training and certification for Canvas was unanimously approved by the Senate!

E. Unfinished Business

- Senate packet, pages 39-41
- AP 7160 Professional Development: 2nd Reading
- VP, Educational Policies, Darcie McClelland
- No changes were made since the 1st reading. Many of the proposed changes reflect rearrangement rather than revision of the content of the AP. A key addition is establishment of an umbrella committee which will give constituent groups an opportunity to collaborate and share resources.

F. New Business

- Resolutions of Commendation for Compton Colleagues
- Kristie Daniel-DiGregorio & Janet Young
- The Compton College leaders, Paul Flor and Chris Halligan, were recognized with gifts of appreciation and the following resolution, which was passed unanimously by the ECC Academic Senate:

OER Discussion and Questions:

Mary shared that it is likely that more faculty are using OER than are participating in the grant; one of the benefits of the grant is that it is helping the college identify faculty using OERs.

Senators asked if these efforts would lead to the elimination of the bookstore on our campus. This is a concern because some course materials (e.g., for I&T courses) can't be offered as OERs. Mary reported that the grant team is collaborating with the bookstore since one of the OER options is for students to purchase a low-cost printout of OERs. The bookstore will be asked to indicate when OERs are available for courses on their online search tool.

Ross Miyashiro noted that Schedule Builder has a separate tab for OER classes.

SB 1359 requires the college to note in the schedule of classes which courses have ZERO cost. Our college has decided to also note classes which are LOW cost (e.g., $40-50 or less).

OER Discussion and Questions:

A list of websites does not constitute an OER.

Mary explained that math classes may also utilize OERs, though it may take 2-3 years to find a solution for the fact that students must purchase access to online homework tools.

Counseling senators confirmed that textbook costs can negatively impact student success and retention. R. Miyashiro shared recent data suggesting that nearly 60% of students reported textbooks were their number one cost.

Part of the goal of the grant is to create a statewide archive of links and resources.

G. Info Items: Discussion

- Statewide Updates
- KDD provided an update on statewide initiatives, including several that the Senate has discussed this year.
- New Initiatives from Chancellor's Office:
 - Fully Online College
 - AB 705 (English & Math Placement)
 - Performance-Based Funding Formula
- Statewide Faculty Perspectives: Support the goal (speeding students' progress to transfer-level courses) but concerned about consultation regarding design and implementation.
- Statewide Senate (Spring Plenary): resolution concerning legal interpretation of AB 705
- Senates: KDD shared that a handful of senates have passed votes or resolutions of no confidence in Chancellor Eloy Oakley. Each has addressed a variety of different issues in a variety of formats (e.g., letters to the Board of Governors, brief motions noting general concerns, detailed resolutions addressing specific concerns).
- California Federation of Teachers has called for local chapters to pass resolutions of no confidence.

G. Info Items: Discussion

- Statewide Updates
- ECC Senate Eboard has discussed these issues, including at their most recent planning summit and have noted:
- Many of the issues are still fluid (e.g., the budget and funding formula).
- Awareness of the issues of concern is limited among faculty not involved in statewide leadership.
- For statewide initiatives, ASCCC serves as a guide. Not only is this good practice but it's also good strategy for an effort to have the necessary coordination and leverage to succeed. So far, there is no effort being organized by ASCCC.
- At this point, the eboard recommends taking a "wait and see" approach, which can be assessed again in fall.

G. Info Items: Discussion

- Statewide Updates
- Senators noted that the ASCCC is an “old boys network,” and often slow to effect change or to innovate.
- Others noted that the CFT encouraged a quick and forceful message and that FACCC was working to coordinate with the statewide Senate.
- The situation will be monitored over the summer and may be revisited in the fall.
- Other info items included:
- Bryant Odega, Director of Academic Affairs for ASO introduced his successor, Wiley Wilson. Mr. Wilson has been involved on campus, including serving as VP for the Black Student Union. Mr. Wilson noted that he is working to establish grants and scholarships for students transferring to Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs).

H. Future Agenda Items

- Senate Orientation
- Senate Goals, 2018-2019

I. Public Comment
