2022-23 Transfer Guide

Explore Independent, Nonprofit
California Colleges and Universities

CAN I AFFORD A PRIVATE INDEPENDENT COLLEGE?

Do not take yourself out of the game by ruling out a particular college or university based solely on overall tuition. Unless you apply and find out what type of financial aid is available, you will never know if you could have attended your first-choice college.

Always file for financial aid & complete the FAFSA

The FAFSA is the Free Application for Federal Student Aid, and you should apply even if you think you may not qualify for financial aid. It is required to be considered for almost every type of financial assistance.

Know the difference between “Net Price” & “Sticker Price.”

While the overall tuition, or “sticker price,” of an independent college is higher than that of a public institution, when all types of financial aid are factored in, the actual “out-of-pocket” expense of an independent college is often about the same or sometimes even less.

THE TRUTH ABOUT STUDENT DEBT

If you pay attention to the news, you are probably aware of the reports about students being “buried” in student debt. This is not the reality of student debt at private independent colleges in California.

The average amount of money borrowed for college by California students varies little by public or private (nonprofit) institution. Graduates of California colleges have an average student loan debt of $18,021. Plus, graduates of California independent colleges do best when it comes to repaying their student loans, having low default rates.

Graduating in Four Years is Important

Taking an extra year or two to complete a bachelor's degree could result in costing a student thousands of dollars in additional tuition and interest on loans, as well as missed income and retirement benefits.

KNOW THE TYPES OF FINANCIAL AID

Grants & Scholarships

“Gift aid” that does not need to be repaid.

Cal Grant

The state of California awards grants to California students based on financial need. These awards may be used at public or private colleges. For example, a first-year student at one of California's independent colleges may be eligible to receive up to a maximum of $9,358 in Cal Grant aid.

Federal Pell Grant

The federal government also awards aid based on family income. The maximum Pell grant is now $6,895 per year. In addition, students may qualify for Work-Study, meaning that they will be able to work on campus and be paid.

Institutional Aid

AICCU colleges regularly award student grants and/or scholarships based on financial need, as well as academic and other special abilities, such as in fine arts or athletics. The average institutional grant for Cal Grant students at California independent colleges is more than $19,800 per year.

Other Scholarships

Many outside scholarships are also available through community foundations, corporations, employers, or other organizations. Resources for locating these include: guidance counselors, community foundations, and websites such as College Board and FastWeb.

Borrowed Aid

College loans are available through the federal government, as well as private sources such as banks. Take advantage of all federal loans first; they typically have the lowest interest rates and added consumer protections.

CLAREMONT MCKENNA COLLEGE

Claremont McKenna College (CMC), one of the nation's top liberal arts colleges, prepares students to make a difference. The College educates students for thoughtful and productive lives and roles of responsible leadership through its strong, real-world mission. Admission to the College is need-blind and emphasizes the demonstration of leadership accomplishments. The College attracts a student body that is broadly diverse and accomplished beyond the classroom. Located on a scenic, tree-lined residential campus 30 miles east of Los Angeles, CMC is a member of The Claremont Colleges, a seven-college consortium modeled after Oxford University. CMC students choose from more than 2,200 classes and participate in co-curricular activities with 7,000 other students at The Claremont Colleges. Students have the best of both worlds: the intimacy of a small residential college with small classes, a student-faculty ratio of nine to one, and the shared resources of a larger research university.

HARVEY MUDD COLLEGE

A small private liberal arts college of math, science, and engineering, Harvey Mudd College was the fourth undergraduate member of The Claremont Colleges. It is located in Claremont, California, a suburb 35 miles east of Los Angeles. With 900 students, it is the smallest of The Claremont Colleges, and offers 10 majors, all in math, science, and engineering. Students complete a Common Core, which includes courses from every major, as well as academic writing and critical inquiry. Students must also take a substantial amount of coursework in the Humanities, Social Sciences, and Arts at the College or within the consortium. We have limited space for transfer students and it is important that transfer candidates have completed courses similar to our Core prior to enrolling.

MINERVA UNIVERSITY

Minerva University delivers an exceptional liberal arts and sciences education for future leaders and innovators across disciplines, offering bachelors and masters degrees. To deliver a reinvented experience, Minerva combines a pathbreaking interdisciplinary curriculum, the highest academic standards, accomplished faculty using the science of learning, a leading digital learning environment that enables deep, long-lasting learning, and, for bachelors, an urban residential experience that traverses seven countries. Minerva University is the most academically selective yet financially accessible education for high-achieving students from around the world. Admission is solely merit-based and designed to reduce systemic biases in selectivity. While its admission rate hovers around 1%, its tuition is 1/3 that of other elite American universities. 78% of its undergraduate students receive financial support, making Minerva the most socio-economically diverse highly selective university in the United States.

THE CHICAGO SCHOOL OF PROFESSIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

The Chicago School of Professional Psychology (TCSPP) is a not-for-profit, accredited institution with more than 6,000 students at campuses across the country and online. TCSPP has been an innovator in the field of psychology and related behavioral science since 1979. TCSPP offers more than 20 degree programs and a wealth of opportunities for international experiences. Central to our transformational impact on students and their communities is The Engaged Professional Model of Education. This groundbreaking approach to training leverages the talents and experience of faculty practitioners, who work with our Community Partnership and Applied Professional Practice teams to provide a rich spectrum of clinical training in a wide range of community settings. In fact, the school was the first of its kind to be named to the President's Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll for its leadership in service and civic engagement.

UNIVERSITY OF SAN DIEGO

The University of San Diego (USD) sets the standard for an engaged, contemporary Catholic university, where innovative change makers confront humanity's urgent challenges. USD's values are reflected in the University's rich Catholic intellectual tradition as well as its commitment to the liberal arts, which together ensure that its community of scholars are educated wholly — intellectually, physically, spiritually, emotionally, socially, and culturally. USD provides a character-building education that fosters independent thought, innovation, integrity, analytical thinking, and an open-minded, collaborative world view. The university welcomes and respects those whose lives are formed by different traditions, recognizing the importance of varying perspectives in contributing to a pluralistic society and fostering an atmosphere of open discussion and discovery.

ZAYTUNA COLLEGE

In 2009, Zaytuna College was founded in Berkeley, California, with a mission that called for grounding students in the Islamic scholarly tradition as well as in the cultural currents and critical ideas shaping modern society. In March 2015, Zaytuna earned accreditation from the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, becoming the first accredited Muslim college in the United States. We seek students who demonstrate intelligence, diligence, and perseverance, who have a track record of service and volunteer work, are energized by long hours of study, and desire to develop their character as they develop their intellect. Acquiring tools for accessing great books, in English and Arabic, that contain timeless truths is a way of life at Zaytuna College. We follow a need-blind admissions process and do our best to ensure our students complete their education debt-free.
