

Board Policy 6160El Camino Community College District
Computer and Network Use Policy

El Camino Community College District (ECC) owns and operates a variety of computer systems, including but not limited to voicemail, electronic mail, telephone and access to the internet, for use by its faculty, students and staff. ECC encourages the use of its computer systems for education, academic development, public service and other educational purposes. When using ECC's computer and network systems, all users are required to abide by the rules of this Policy and use the system in an ethical and lawful manner. Misuse may constitute a misdemeanor or felony under federal law and may result in the deprivation of network privileges and/or disciplinary actions. Procedures for this policy will be developed by the Superintendent/President or his designee in collegial consultation with all appropriate constituents.
