Join us for Career Exploration and Development in Education through an inspiring panel discussion featuring educators who will share their journeys into the teaching/education profession.

Our mission is to bridge opportunity and resource gaps for students of color aspiring to become educators while fostering a strong community and network of men of color in the field.

This event is open to all and if you're interested in earning a teaching credential and making a meaningful impact through education, we invite you to join us in this conversation on shaping the future through social change.
