

THINKING CAPS

When making decisions, it helps to think about and evaluate your choices from different perspectives. Consider a decision you want to make in regards to a potential career direction, then answer the questions under each “thinking cap.” This decision-making tool will help you analyze your choices and arrive at your best decision.

A college/career-related I decision I want to make: _____

WHITE CAP: GATHER INFORMATION

What do I know about this career?

What do I need to find out?

How will I get the information I need?

RED CAP: CHECK YOUR INSTINCTS

What do I feel about this career?

What is my intuition telling me?

Am I excited and passionate about this field?

YELLOW CAP: IDENTIFY BENEFITS

Why is this good career for me?

Why is this career going to grow?

What are some of the “hidden” benefits?

BLACK CAP: IDENTIFY NEGATIVES

What are the difficulties with this career choice?

What risks am I taking with this career?

Why won't this career work for me?

GREEN CAP: BE INNOVATIVE

How can I approach this career differently?

What skills/talents will make me unique in this field?

What are alternatives and possibilities this career offers?

BLUE CAP: NEXT STEPS

What do I need to do to move forward?

Who do I need to talk to?

Today I will...

Adapted from Edward de Bono's Six Thinking Hats.

After wearing all 6 caps, I have decided: _____

“WHEN YOU HAVE A CHOICE TO MAKE AND DON'T MAKE IT, THAT IN ITSELF IS A CHOICE.” —WILLIAM JAMES