Join us for a special screening of the award-winning documentary “ᏊᏊᏊᏊ (We Will Speak),” a compelling story of Indigenous cultural resilience and language revitalization.

This captivating film explores the rich history of the Cherokee people, focusing on their ongoing efforts to preserve their language and culture from disappearing. Discover the stories of activists and educators fighting to save their language and ensure that the Cherokee language continues to thrive.

Q&A TO FOLLOW: Engage with filmmaker and director El Camino College English Professor, Michael McDermit at a Q&A after the screening moderated by El Camino College DEIA Librarian, Linda Cooks.

Presented by the Social Justice Center and the Associated Students Organization (ASO), the film is presented as part of programming honoring Native American Heritage Month.

ACCOMMODATIONS: If you anticipate needing any type of accommodation, or have questions about the physical access provided, email mmcdermit@elcamino.edu as soon as possible.
